

3 Resources to Provide Access

Chunking: Chunking is a strategy used by teachers to help students break up a task or a text to make it more manageable for students. This webpage is a great resource to understand how it works and includes a link to ABCMouse books on YouTube.

<https://educationandbehavior.com/how-to-use-chunking-in-reading/>

Prompting and Errorless Learning: Errorless learning helps students learn new concepts or content by providing prompting and fading the prompt until the learning occurs. Here is one video that gives parents an idea of what it looks like.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=WQ\_SM26Wz3I

Brain Breaks: Brain breaks are an excellent strategy to help students get through longer tasks or to break any task to move toward completion. Here are 50 ways your student can take a brain break.

<https://www.weareteachers.com/brain-breaks-for-kids/>